II. _____ our great debt.

- A. When God forgave your sins, He then incurred the debt and Jesus Christ died to pay it. The debt doesn't go away. It still has to be paid, but the forgiver incurs it and pays it... Like Paul when he's writing to Philemon, you remember? And he was talking about Onesimus and Philemon, verses 18 and 19, or right in there, he says, "Whatever he owes you, put on my account. Whatever he owes you, transfer to my account, I will repay."
- John MacArthur

III. _____ His words of forgiveness.

She can take something about a person's face that's unusual or a bit unattractive and exaggerate it, making it prominent so that the person looks foolish. That's exactly what your heart does when someone wrongs you. - Tim Keller
